

8 Steps to your new career

Agenda has assisted many candidates at several stages of their careers and is proud of our strong record in being recommended to other jobseekers. Our service to you is FREE and we are your best connection to employers in biomedical research throughout the UK.

8 We carry out security screening and will obtain references for our clients

7 We will negotiate the final job offer on your behalf if required

6 In addition to this we can also support you in many other areas such as advice on your CV and preparing for interviews

5 Our team will support you throughout the recruitment process including submitting your details, arranging interviews and providing you with post-interview feedback

4 We will contact you with details of suitable vacancies some of which have not been widely advertised

3 We register your details on our secure database which automatically matches your details against current vacancies

2 We will then contact you to discuss your specific requirements
